I am pleased to welcome one and all to this, our 12th Annual Cultural and Education Conference.

Your interest and participation throughout the past eleven years has made us grow strong together on the issues surrounding education.

This year our theme is "Steps in Time: Education Through the Generations." Cultural identity and education must go hand in hand for the development of our young people. We must build a strong, culturally-aware, self-sufficient youth, confident in their skills and knowledge in their identity, to meet the challenges of the 21st century.

Come together and share your knowledge, hopes and dreams for our leaders of tomorrow.
