

George Flett Burns.

George Burns (Pamenaywayaskung, “Pretty Sounding Step”) was the son of Moses Burns and the grandson of Metis leader Michel Cardinal. George was the namesake of Reverend George Flett who had christened his father Moses Burns. He eventually dropped Burns as a surname and went by George Flett. He married Emma Cook from the Narrows between Lake Manitoba and Lake Winnipegosis. They had eight children.

Compiled by Lawrence Barkwell
Coordinator of Metis Heritage and History Research
Louis Riel Institute