

Horace D. D. Halcrow (1882-1945)

Horace was born at Cumberland House on February 9, 1882, the son of Gideon Halcrow (Scot) and Margaret McLeod (Cree Métisse). Horace Halcrow (1882-1945) was a clerk with the Hudson's Bay Company at Ile-a-la-Crosse from 1899 to 1907. Upon retirement he moved to the Pas. He was a mining prospector and developer and a fur buyer. He served for eight years on The Pas municipal council and was elected Mayor of The Pas in 1922. Horace's father entered service with the HBC on January 14, 1869 at York Factory. After postings at Pelican Narrows, Reindeer Lake, Norway House, Fort a La Corne, Cumberland House, Grand Rapids, and finally The Pas where he served as Clerk from 1896 to 1909 before he retired.

Horace was married to Laura Halcrow née Heurd. She was born February 9, 1882 at Warroad, Minnesota and died on October 8, 1945 (aged 63) at The Pas. She is buried at Saint Michael's and All Angels Cemetery, Big Eddy, Opaskwayak Cree Nation.

Horace worked for the Hudson's Bay Company for eight years before coming with his family to The Pas in 1895. He started in business for himself in 1907. He served for eight years on The Pas municipal council and was elected Mayor of The Pas in 1922. He was on the executive of the Dog Derby and one of the originators of it, for the better breeding of dogs, and was its President in 1925. He died at Winnipeg on 8 October 1945 and was buried in the St. Michaels and All Angels Cemetery, Big Eddy, Opaskwayak.

PIONEER OF THE NORTH

HORACE HALCROW

WAS PIONEER IN THE STAKING MINING CLAIMS

During Winter of 1900 Halcrow and Companion Were Delayed by Pack Wolves on Present
Site of Cranberry

Probably no man living knows this north country like Horace Halcrow, now a prominent citizen of The Pas.

Mr. Halcrow was in Cranberry Portage a few days ago on his way to Cold Lake to look after some work he is doing on some mining properties he is interested in, and while here he related some of his experiences in the north covering a period of thirty years. Back in the winter of 1900 he made a trip over Cranberry Portage with a dog-team accompanied by Baptiste Laliberte, a half breed free trader.

He relates that at the present site of Cranberry Portage, they encountered a pack of about 30 wolves, which held them up here for an hour until the wolves disappeared and they were safe to proceed.

Mr. Halcrow was at the headwaters of the Churchill river, on Isle La Crosse Lakes from 1902 to 1907, from 1907 to 1909 he was located at Pointe Albert, locating at The Pas in 1909, where he has resided ever since. He has been engaged in mining since 1908, and in fur buying since 1900. He has travelled by dog-team and canoe all over Northern Manitoba and Saskatchewan and knows the north like a book. He recognized the mineral values of Lac La Ronge area years ago and staked claims there in 1907. He was the first stake claims at Beaver Lake, and also at Herb Lake; even before any stakings were made at Flin Flon, but his stakings were made too early.

Mr. Halcrow has always taken an active part in civic affairs at The Pas and was candidate for mayor in the recent election. He has been very active recently in the securing of a highway from The Pas to connect with the highway at Mafeking.

Gideon Halcrow, father of Horace Halcrow, was for years a factor for the Hudson's Bay Co., coming into the country about 60 years ago by way of Hudson Straits. He located at The Pas in 1910, where he resided until his death in 1920.

Obituary for Gideon Halcrow;

THE PAS MAN, FRIDAY MAY 14, 1920

Mr. Gideon Halcrow Dies Following an Operation and the North Mourns the Loss of a

Great Citizen

The death of Mr. Gideon Halcrow is mourned from Ile a la Crosse to Hudson Bay, and no deeper feeling of grief can be felt than that of the Indians to whom he was known intimately. Held in high esteem by his fellow citizens of The Pas, and widely known for his sterling honesty and integrity, no man held a better place in the public confidence than he. He was a striking personality with his long flowing beard and rapid movement when walking, a picture of health, strength and energy, and his friends often prophesied he would live to be a hundred. His death leaves but a mere handful of the fine old timers who settled New Manitoba, and pioneered the way for the present day people. He leaves an honored name that will go down in history yet to be written of this north. To his widow, sons and daughters great sympathy is expressed from all sides

The death of Mr Gideon Halcrow took place at Mayo's hospital, Rochester, Minnesota, at 11:00 on Thursday night, May 6th, following an operation for stomach trouble. He went there nearly 7 weeks ago, and the operation was successfully made on April 23rd. He rallied but slightly, and gradually his constitution weakened under the strain. He made a heroic fight for life, but nature could but little assist him. His son Horace and daughter Joan were at his bedside to the last. Besides Mrs. Halcrow he leaves 5 sons and 5 daughters; Horace, Gideon, Richard, George and Alex; Mrs. J H Gordon of Vancouver, Mrs Frank Barker, Mrs R Hooker, Mrs W C Pilgrim and Miss Joan Halcrow all of The Pas.

14 children blessed the union of this happy couple; 1 daughter and 1 son dying several years ago and a son Arthur died over 2 years ago. Angus was killed in action in France, while serving his country in the ranks of the Canadian Armed Forces as a corporal. Four sons saw service in the war.

Born in the Shetland Islands on the north shore of Scotland 67 years ago, Mr. Halcrow, at the age of 17, engaged with the HBC, and landed at York Factory shortly after. He won rapid promotion, and was soon placed in charge of various posts inland, his last post being at The Pas, from which he retired on a pension after long years of faithful and honorable service. He was stationed at Pelican Narrows, Reindeer Lake, Norway House, Fort a La Corne, Cumberland House, Grand Rapids, and The Pas, the last named for 23 years.

He was married at Grand Rapids over 45 years ago and until his illness he had never been separated from his wife for a period longer than a week. Both were constant and deeply devoted to each other and their children. His fine sense of honesty and sincerity was a marked characteristic of him, and he was held in the highest respect by all. The community mourns his loss deeply, and his removal from life takes away from The Pas and northland a sterling type of man of the old school. Flags were flown at half-mast on the Hudson Bay store, Community building, Power House, Opasquai hotel, Rupert Hotel, Avenue hotel, public school, Indian Agency, Mission Island, and at Anthony's Hospital out of respect to his memory.

How Angus Halcrow Made the Great Sacrifice

The following letter received by Mr. G. Halcrow, from the officer in command of the grenade section in which his son, the late Angus Halcrow, was employed at the time of meeting his fateful end, will interest many of our readers who knew Angus Halcrow. Mr. Halcrow also received letters of sympathy from Chaplain Appleyard, who performed the funeral service, and Minister of Militia A. E. Kemp.

In the Field, 2nd Jany. 1917.
G. Halcrow, Esq., The Pas, Man.

Dear Sir:

It is with deepest regret that I write this letter, for I have to inform you that your son, A. Halcrow, was killed on the 25th of December, while passing down a trench, about 10 p.m. He was instantly killed by the explosion of a shell. He has been buried in our cemetery and a cross has been erected on his grave.

It seemed the especial irony of fate that he should go on Christmas day, but he went to his death at duty like any soldier should.

Your son was well thought of and liked by everybody who knew him. I tell you this, although I know that as a stranger I cannot do or say much to lighten your sorrow.

His personal effects will reach you in due course.

I offer you my deepest sympathy, and remain,

Yours sincerely,

H. S. OLIVER, Lieut.

O. C. Grenade Section, 28th Batt.

Gallant Angus Halcrow
Killed in Action on Christmas Day

Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Halerow yesterday received the sad intelligence by cable that their son Angus was killed in action on Christmas day. The people of the town of The Pas, and the whole northern country will greatly sympathise with the family in their bereavement. Angus was a gallant boy, and his letters from the front were always cheerful although he knew that his life was in his hands all the time. He was attached to the grenade section, and there is no doubt but that he paid the supreme sacrifice for his country while engaged in this precarious work. The Herald unites with other friends of the family in extending them sympathy.
