

Jim Settee: The Way Home Classroom

Tracker Reflections from High School Students... Finding Our Way Home, Finding Our Way in Life, Helping Others Find Their Way

Everyone is unique and Jim used his empathy to find the boy.

I learned about how to find myself when I get lost.

I learned that you need to listen to nature and reconnect yourself.

I learned about being able to find myself, inside and out.

I appreciated that everybody is different, and at the same time, similar. The part that stood out most was what Jim said: "There are many roads home."

I liked how he had saved the boy just from peace and love in his heart.

Home for me is happiness with my inner self.

Jim could go into the mind of the lost person and find them.

"There are a lot of roads but I know the ones to take." - Cheyenne

The one thing that stood out the most to me, and that I'm taking home is one of Jim Settee's quotes. The quote is "Who are you to reject anyone?" I think that this really hit home with me because I hate being left out, and I hate having people reject me, so I don't want others to feel like that either. – Dannika

Today and yesterday I learned many things about Jim Settee that he was a pro tracker and he found a child just by seeing where he last was. The most important thing I learned was that Jim made a big difference just by being a good person. – Riley

The thing that stood out the most to me is that heroes don't need to have a cape and a large crest on their chest. They can be any regular person, just like Jim Settee. I learned everyone is unique, that you are original. – Cassidy

I am taking home that just one person can make a difference.

I am remembering when she said that now we are in grade 12, people look up to us for guidance.

The thing that stood out to me is that Jim Settee was a great leader and he made everybody feel special in their own way. This is important to me because I can show more leadership and show that I care. – Jasmyn

I thought the most important thing that stood out for me in the video was how caring and respectful he was. The thing I'm going to remember is to be caring.
