In 2012 he also received the Queen Elizabeth Diamond Jubilee Medal from the Hon. Philip S. Lee, C.M., O.M., Lieutenant Governor of Manitoba.

David Chartrand is a descendant of the Saulteaux-Métis followers of Chief Ow-tah-pee-ka-kaw (“He Who Unlocks” or “The Key”). He is the great-great-grandson of Sophie Genaille (Chenaille) who was a member of this band.¹ She married William Chartrand, a member of the Duck Bay Band in 1873 about two years before the Shoal River Band signed Treaty Four.

David was born and raised in the small Métis community of Duck Bay, Manitoba; the son of Martha Chartrand. David is the fourth child in a family of eight and was raised by a single mother who instilled a strong sense of family commitment in all of her children and grandchildren. For many years David was estranged from his father, the late Nelson Lamirande, however they had reconciled over the last years of his life at David’s initiative. As a young man David hunted and fished to contribute to the well being of his family. The traditional values of his community played a major role in his belief that people are the cornerstone of the Manitoba Métis Federation. David’s first language is Saulteaux. David was preceded in Métis politics by his older brother Elbert Chartrand. Elbert is the executive director of the Swan River Indian and Métis Friendship Centre and currently serves as MMF Vice President from Northwest Métis Council region.

David was first elected to the Manitoba Métis Federation Board of Directors, from the Winnipeg Region in 1988, and was re-elected four successive times to that position. In 1997, he was elected to the presidency and is now serving his fifth term² as President of the Manitoba Métis Federation. He is on leave from his position as Executive Director of the Manitoba Aboriginal Courtworker Program (appointed January 1990). Before that appointment, he worked as a Probation Officer (1985-1990). During that time he completed his post-secondary education with the Manitoba New Careers Program. From 1981 to 1985 David was manager of the Manor Hotel in Winnipeg; from 1979 to 1981 he was Recreation and Community Action Coordinator for the Winnipeg Indian Council.

¹ The Key First Nation – Most of the followers of Chief Ow-tah-pee-ka-kaw (“He Who Unlocks” or “The Key”) were residing along the Shoal River in western Manitoba in the mid-1800s. The Shoal River drains Swan Lake into Dawson Bay, at the northwest extremity of Lake Winnipegosis. The band included Saulteaux, Saulteaux-Cree, and Saulteaux-Orkney Métis individuals when The Key signed adhesion to Treaty 4 September 24, 1875.

² Re-elected on June 10, 2010.
